Become A Henspa Distributor

Egganic Industries has sold thousands of Henspa coops across the nation to backyard chicken owners and farms. After ten years of production we are excited to now offer wholesale distributor prices to online and retail stores. We can drop-ship orders, or ship you completed coops at a considerable discount on the retail price.

Backyard chickens are one of the fastest growing type of pets in the nation. What was once only a rural responsibility is now becoming a common pastime in urban settings. Consumers today increasingly desire access to food that is organic, green, and self-sustainable, along with structures that provide visual charm and handiness. Specialized poultry coops have made this possible for almost any homeowner.

Our backyard coops are unique compared to all other types and designs. They are based on years of research, customer feedback, and quality industry products. The six standard models are broad in price range, aesthetic appeal, and size. First time and experienced chicken owners appreciate the convenience and fun Henspa provides with its many features.

Standard Features:

- Predator protection
- Durable materials for extended life and wear
- Roosts and sunroom
- Easy maintenance of feed and water
- Easy cleaning, no hay or straw needed

Unique Model Features:

- No-effort mobility through floating, wheel system
- Nipple watering containers
- Nesting boxes hens want to use, and egg collection bin
- Timers, lights, and heaters
- Customizable colors and materials
